MR. OLIVER FOR LT.-GOVERNOR?

That's the Story That Comes From Ottawa Today—Appeared in Conservative Paper

TELLS OF MANY DISPUTES

Stated Hon. Frank Oliver Resigned Portfolio at Kamloops to Laurier

WAS NOT ACCEPTED THEN

Government Will Stay on Good Terms and Offer Him Lieutenant-Governorship

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 17.—The Morning Citizen (Conservative) dealing with the appointment at an early date of new Lieutenant-Governors for Alberta and Saskatchewan, says:

"The leading candidates for the leadership of Saskatchewan are Mr. Geo. Brown, of Regina, and Mr. J. G. Tarriff, M.P. for East Assiniboia. The former has the backing of the Scott government while Mr. Tarriff is recommended by a Liberal member of parliament of Saskatchewan. In Alberta the situation derives interest on account of the probable retirement of Hon. Frank Oliver from the cabinet. It is generally believed that there are sharp differences of opinion between Mr. Oliver and his colleagues respecting question of policy in the administration of the department of the interior.

The minister's regulations in regard to immigration were modified by the government during his absence in the Yukon and it is currently reported that differences of opinion as to the proper methods of allotment of homesteads in the railway belt of British Columbia terminated a few days ago in an interview between Mr. Oliver and Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Kamloops in course of which the former tendered his resignation. It was not accepted at that time but there is every reason to believe that within the next few months Mr. Oliver will be succeeded in the cabinet by Premier Sifton of Alberta. There is none the less, every disposition on the part of the Government to part with Mr. Oliver on good terms and there is authority for the statement that the minister has the refusal of the governorship of Alberta."

HE SHOT HIS WIFE AT HER REQUEST

James McDowell, Husband of an Alberta Girl, Tells Story in New York City

WIFE CRUSHED BY FALL

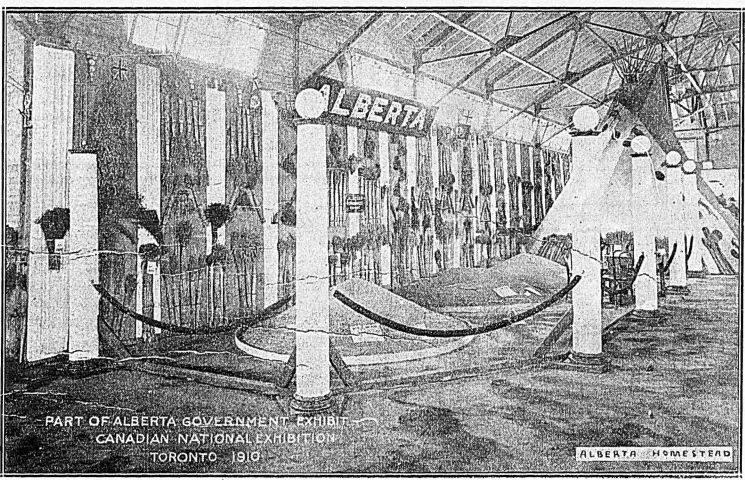

"She Was In Agony—She Begged Me to End Her Life—I Shot Her"

New York, Sept. 17.—James McDowell, a prospector and miner who killed his wife to end her sufferings in the wilds of the Canadian Northwest, is at the home of friends at 2774 Bainbridge avenue today.

He is a nervous and physical wreck. McDowell complied with the plea of his mortally wounded wife to end her agony. He was executed by a jury. "My wife was Fanny Crawford, a native of Alberta," he said. "I had a rich claim near Castle Mountain, British Columbia, on an extension of the Cascade range, and soon after we were married we decided to visit it. The male on which my wife was riding was stung by a horse and plunged into a precipice, carrying her with him. My wife was crushed to a shapeless mass and begged me to end her agony. I then shot her."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH FOR ST. ALBERT

On Sunday afternoon next a meeting of Presbyterian residents of St. Albert and the vicinity will be held and presided over by Dr. McQueen, with a view to organizing a church. If the number of families justifies the erecting a site will be procured in the new townsite and a church building at once erected.

"I'll Leave it to the Legislature"

Premier Sifton, in Opening Campaign in Macleod, Says if his Policy on the A. & G. W. Does Not Meet With Approval of the House, Then he Will be Willing to Resign—An Enthusiastic Meeting.

Macleod, Sept. 17.—"I am not prepared to announce the government's policy relative to the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway until the legislature meets. It is the legislature which will have to finally decide on this policy. If that policy is not approved of this, I am ready to resign."

The foregoing statement was made by Hon. A. L. Sifton, premier of Alberta, last night in the first meeting of the campaign in Macleod, held in the town hall. The meeting was wildly enthusiastic and the premier was accorded a splendid reception. His statement was met with cheers.

Other speakers of the evening, besides the premier, and E. S. Manssell, the Liberal candidate, were J. W. McDonald, president of the Liberal association, Hon. W. A. Buchanan, Robert Patterson, the Independent Farmers candidate, and several others.

At the outset the premier defined the position of both parties in the case. One supported the government and the other was in opposition. If after a period of time it was considered by either that the government was not acting wisely in the interests of the province it was their duty to vote against it and assist in removing it from office. At the opening of the legislature the government would present its policy for approval. If that policy met with the approval of the legislature it would be supported, but if not, it would be voted down and the government would resign, and he would retire gracefully. In regard to the statement made that the government was indifferent to the result of the election, the premier said that such was not the case.

"Governments are human," he said, "and would much rather have a friend than an enemy."

Premier Sifton said in part: "I have been told that it is necessary to make an announcement in regard to what the government is going to do in regard to the Great Waterways Railway company. That contract was made by the legislature and can only be changed by the legislature in this country, and when that legislature meets, as the premier of this country, I shall be perfectly free to give to that legislature my ideas in regard to what shall be done, and I am satisfied to leave power in this country and drop out of existence. If this legislature says that the policy is not in the interests of the country, but until that legislature meets and until the report that is made by the judges of this matter is placed before that legislature, no action will be taken by the government of this country in regard to that matter, either for or against.

"No change has taken place in the state of affairs since the first day of June, when this government took office in this country, and will not take place until the third day of November, and the people of this country have lost nothing with regard to their rights and will not until the Legislature of this country says so."

M. Manssell, was received with enthusiasm and made a stirring speech on behalf of the government. Mr. Patterson, on the other hand met with poor support, which was discouraging to his supporters. The speech of Hon. W. A. Buchanan, was a notable effort

CASTOR

"The Pride of the Beaver Dam Valley" Is a Hustling, Growing Town

One can hardly realize the fact that it is only a score and a half years ago that the Indians chased the buffalo over the bounding prairie.

The sweet, rich grasses now afforded ample pasturage to the herds of the rancher, who in his turn surrendered to the onrush of the agriculturalists. Naturally, around each small district, villages have sprung up, and in centres where the steel has ventured, towns of no mean order have sprung up. Some of these towns are embryo cities, but it takes a shrewd investor to twig the fact. In fact, the country is changing so rapidly that one sees the thought accomplished before it is weighed in the mind. The cinematograph could not grapple with such pictures as the dawn of the new era, we are destined to experience.

It is a fascinating story, the growth of the incorporated town of Castor, located as a terminal on the Lacombe to Moose Jaw C.P.R. branch, at a

RE-OPENING OF CHURCH

The Westminster Presbyterian will be formally opened tomorrow after some months in the builders' hands. The Rev. W. D. Reid, superintendent preacher.

The church has been remodelled on a plan that makes it double the size of the former building. A large addition has been added on the east side, new seats have been put in, and the location of the pulpit and the choir loft have been changed. The church has been vastly improved throughout and will be now capable of accommodating the congregation easily that overtaxed its powers before.

LOOKING FOR HER SON

Robert Finley McDonald, aged about 21, has been missing for over a year, and his widowed mother, Mrs. May M. Campbell, of Mishawaka, Indiana, has been exerting every effort to locate him, and with a view of obtaining whatever assistance can be given she has written Chief of Police Lacey. She states that her son left Great Falls, Montana, a year ago last July and that she has received no word from him, and is sometimes inclined to the belief that he has been killed. Her only hope is that he may be located on some sheep or cattle ranch in this district.

Three youths, Gaslen, Guller and Burkh, have been charged with the charge of petty theft in Strathcona. They will be tried on Saturday next for stealing small articles out of C. P. R. cars on the siding. Gaslen is being sent to the R. N. W. M. P. in Edmonton until the trial and the other two will be detained in Strathcona.

HE WAS ACQUITTED.

Peter Choma Was Not Found Guilty of Stealing Lien Note.

By a mistake in reporting the result of two cases that recently were tried at Vegreville, the Daily Capital said yesterday that Peter Choma was sentenced to two years for stealing a lien note and that the trial of Harry Lesluk who stole a grey mare would take place in Edmonton at a later date. This statement is entirely wrong. Lesluk was sentenced to two years but Peter Choma was entirely acquitted of stealing the lien note.

CONSERVATIVES HAD A TALKFEST

Executive of Association Had a Meeting Last Night—"Nothing for Publication"

A meeting of the executive of the Conservative association was held last night in the offices of the Union Investment company, Jasper Avenue. There was a small attendance and matters dealing with policy and organization were discussed. The date of the Conservative caucus which was supposed to have been held last night in the offices of the Union Investment company, was postponed indefinitely, was also discussed. But none of the Conservatives had anything to say out loud about it this morning.

DEADLOCK OVER GETTING CAPITAL

Australian Ministry May Fall From Power as Result of Dispute

A CANADIAN WAS IN IT

He Switched From One Side to the Other—Yass Is Federal Capital

Melbourne, Sept. 17.—The struggle over the site of the federal capital has developed some remarkable features. The vote in the Senate ended in a tie. As the result of the split in the government party, the minority secured sufficient support to poll eighteen votes in a chamber of 38. Fraser, a Canadian and former Liberal was the cause of the situation. First the opposition won him over then the labor government succeeded in offering inducements sufficient to bring him back and thus break the deadlock which had lasted nineteen hours. The government thus carried the day and Yass will be the capital. The incident may lead to the downfall of the ministry.

HUDSON BAY RY. WILL MEAN CAPE BRETON COAL IN WEST

GENERAL MANAGER THIN KS NEW RAILWAY WILL MEAN A TOTAL FREIGHT CHARGE ON COAL OF THREE DOLLARS A TON.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 17.—A great enlargement of the market for Cape Breton coal as well as for the steel produce of Nova Scotia is foreshadowed in a statement made today by General Manager Butler of the Dominion Steel Corporation. Mr. Butler was asked how the building of the Hudson's Bay railway would affect the coal and steel industry of Cape Breton by providing a new route for transportation into the interior of Canada of the coal and steel produced in this province.

He replied "The Maritime provinces will benefit more than any other part of the country, excepting only part of the west to be immediately benefited by it. "When the Hudson Bay Railway is completed I expect likely that the coal shipment, for Sydney or Louisburg can be held down at Port Nelson for Churchill, which every day be the terminus of railway at a freight cost of about $1 per ton, adding the railway freight from the terminus of the Hudson's Bay.

The freight to such points should be about $3 per ton. The selling price for Cape Breton coal when this route is available should compare favorably with the present price of American and Western Canadian coal there."

Mr. Butler gave it to be understood that by this new route Cape Breton coal could compete in the markets of a large part of Ontario as well as of Manitoba and other points west. In fact, the long expected end of selling Cape Breton coal in Ontario seems to be at hand.

C. P. R. Buys Fine Oats From a Lloydminster Man for Publicity Purposes

WERE PRIZE WINNERS

And Threshing Returns Showed a Yield of Eighty Six Bushels An Acre

(Special to the Capital.) Lloydminster, Sept. 17.—The Canadian Pacific Railway company has purchased from J. C. Hill and Sons, of Lloydminster, forty-two and one half bushels of oats at one dollar per bushel.

These oats are from seed grown on J. C. Hill's farm six miles east of Lloydminster. They are of the class styled English Abundance Oats, and scored 95 points out of a possible 100 at Brandon Winter fair. The threshing return for these oats showed a yield of eighty-six bushels to the acre, the weight being fifty pounds per bushel. The company will use the oats for exhibition and publicity purposes. Some seventeen thousand small bags, each containing about two ounces, are to be distributed.

VERY DOUBTFUL OF ALL RECIPROCITY

United States Politicians at Washington Are Extremely Sceptical of Success

TREATY WITH CANADA

And a New Law Will Have to Be Passed in Regard to the Tariffs

Washington, D. C., Sept. 17.—Announcements that preliminary steps are being taken with a view to forwarding reciprocity with Canada, have been received here with strong interest among politicians, but the importance of these measures is considerably minimized by those who have been conversant with the drift of Canadian reciprocity negotiations in recent years. The success of last spring, to which reference has been made, was considered here as more than a mere success, it was felt that absolutely nothing can be done further until the passage of some law. This will necessitate the framing of a treaty on entirely independent lines and the approval of such a document by the Senate, with unquestionably the approval of the house to be had in addition. In view of the strength shown by the insurgent Republicans in various parts of the country and of the Democratic gains it is believed, however, that there will be a good chance of putting through such satisfactory provisions including the paper schedule in the tariff of the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, if day has until the new congress comes in. Nothing, however, is expected until next winter.

EARL GREY DANCED FOR AN AGED LADY

Governor-General of Canada Cut the Pigeon Wing for Woman Near Sydney, N. S.

SHE WAS ONE HUNDRED

Had Already Passed Century Mark, But She Filled a Lively Dance Tune

Sydney, N. S., Sept. 17.—During Earl Grey's visit to Sydney and the Countess visited Westmount, a suburb of the city, incognito. His Excellency called on Mrs. Crawley, a centenarian, who was totally unaware of the distinguished personage she was entertaining. "Noticing a violin hanging on the wall," Earl Grey took down the instrument, and told his hostess if she would play, he would dance. The old lady struck up "The Flower of Edinburg," and his Excellency cut the pigeon wing like a four-year-old.

It is understood that Earl Grey will go to Ottawa before starting on a tour for examining the public lands in the winter tour of the West Indies, on which he contemplates starting early in January.

WRONG AGAIN.

No Possible Foundation for Litigation Between Coal Companies West of Here.

The sensational story published in yesterday evening's Journal of the impending litigation between two large coal companies, seems to give a neatly distorted view of the facts. "There is nothing to it" said Mr. O'Donoghue the local representative of the Yellowhead Pass Coal and Coke company. "We have heard nothing about it." Mr. Bruntil, the representative of the Pacific Coal and Coke Co., was also surprised at the story.

CLARKE SERVED WITH THAT WRIT

The writ, on behalf of Alfred Hawes of Toronto, upon W. R. Clarke, president of the Alberta and Great Waterways, which was taken out about five months ago, but which was not served owing to Mr. Clarke being in Kansas City where he has a number of large interests to look after, was served on Mr. Clarke when he was in the early part of this week. Previously a writ had been served on his secretary but this was held to be insufficient.

Hawes' claim is a one-tenth interest in the A. and G. W. or $250,000 in cash as settlement of all claims. To this claim Mr. Clarke has a month to file his defence. The other writs were served on T. K. Cornwall and Geo. J. Minty in April last, and were taken out at the instance of N. F. Davidson, K.C., of Henderson and Davidson, of Toronto. This claim was first made public in the latter part of March when O. M. Bigger on the stand at the Royal Commission, told of the demands made on him during the legislative crisis last winter.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 17.—An important meeting is in progress here of the Twin City baseball magnates looking to reorganization of Minneapolis and St. Paul league, whereby the home series may be arranged which will not conflict with American association rules.

Aiken & Fulton's Hand Tailored Garments

Every man is interested in the clothes question. Most men enjoy being well dressed. The law and the climate compel attention to the subject. Every man who might otherwise be thought of as a slob, some men go through big mistakes upon mistakes in buying clothes. They either pay too much, too little or just enough, and do not get what they pay for.

In Aiken & Fulton's garments you get the degree of perfection that specialists arrive at through years of practice and study.

The examination of Aiken & Fulton's garments must measure up in every particular to the Twentieth Century standard or he goes to the 19th century. The pressing is done absolutely by hand iron. Ready-made clothes are pressed off on pressing machines.

Our pressers do not shape the garments. The expert tailors do the shaping. We challenge the whole tailoring trade of the Dominion of Canada to produce such perfect garments.

POTTS WON IN SIXTH ROUND

Jimmy Potts of Minneapolis, won from Budd Burt in the sixth round. About one minute after the round started, Jimmy landed left and right to the jaw, and Burt went to the mat. Budd did get to his feet again after being counted out, but was decidedly groggy and the lightest kind of a blow would have sent him to slumberland.

There was a large crowd at the Strathcona open house fight evening to see the boxing contest, and though the main bout failed to go fifteen rounds, the six rounds that did take place, along with two fast preliminaries were worth the price of admission.

The boxers entered the ring at 10.40 and Mr. Emerson challenged the winner on behalf of Young Maxwell, the Calgary scrapper. It was announced that the choice of referee was left to the spectators, and Bob McDonald was unanimously selected to be the third man in the ring. Both men looked very fit, Potts being about seven pounds heavier than his opponent.

Burt Rushes Matters

At the call of time, Burt started right in to carry the fight to his opponent and did all the leading. Potts contented himself with blocking, and his perfect defence made it hard for Burt to land. Burt kept right at it and managed to score a few to the face.

Potts opened up a little in the second, and gave a slight indication of his splendid footwork. Jimmy started one of his famous up-punch hay-makers, but Burt was there with the dodging stuff and it failed to land.

The count of Eight

Burt started the offensive work in the third and landed a couple on the face that wakened Jimmy up. Potts sailed right in, and was his opponent down with short arm jab. A straight right to the jaw sent Burt to the mat where he lay until the referee had counted eight. The bell then sounded.

SOCCER MATCH WAS A DRAW

When it Grew so Dark Ball Couldn't be Seen—Game Ended in Glorious Dispute

The game between the St. Georges and the North Edmonton club last night after a hot dispute in which the crowd joined heartily, ended in a draw the score being one goal apiece.

During the first half the play was very even, neither side gaining any advantage, the play being fast and the combination on both sides good. As the whistle blew for the second half, the dusk came on and it was then nearly too dark to see the ball. The North Edmonton team started out well and pressed hard for the first bit. The St. Georges then picked up and after a fine bit of combination succeeded in landing a goal. Shortly afterwards the Packers returned the compliment with a very neat goal.

It was just about this time that it grew only now and then that anyone could get a glimpse of the ball in the dark. Suddenly there was a shout of "Goal," and immediately there was a "rough house" around the referee. The crowd burst out to the field and surrounded the players who in their return surrounded the referee and every one talked at the same time and no body knew what anyone else was saying except that some thought it was a goal and others thought it was not. The referee did not know whether it was a goal or not.

After a great deal of argument the crowd dispersed and the referee decided that the game should end a draw.

EDMONTON RUGBY CLUB.

A full turnout of all members of the Eskimos is requested for this afternoon at Diamond Park when a hard game will be indulged in. The first scheduled game with the Calgary Y.M.C.A. is now only two weeks off, and if the locals wish to start their list with a victory they will have to get out and work like Trojans as the Southerners are reputed to have a fast and heavy fourteen. Today's practice is called for three o'clock sharp.

Melba's First Appearance.
Melba's first public appearance was made at the age of six, when she sang "Comin' thro' the Rye" at a school concert. She was eager to hear what her playfellows, and one in particular, thought of her triumph, and hastened the next morning to her home. After many indirect attempts to introduce the subject, Nellie at length found herself unable to wait longer, and exclaimed excitedly, "But the concert, the concert! I sang last night and was encored," and she looked with interest in the face of her friend, who answered witheringly: "Yes, Nellie Mitchell, and I could see your garters!" The subscribers to the Melba-Edmonton concert will select their seats at Harmony Hall on Monday, September 19th.

distance of nearly 90 miles from the former town. It is just exactly a year ago that the bare prairie was being shaded by the rapidly rising town; the laying of the steel was actually preceded by the establishment of a bustling village.

Already the land hungry, the investors, the business men were swarming here. Every day saw a dozen or more loads of lumber for the building of stores, etc. One or two buildings were actually completed in a few months, of sand stone, taken from the quarries.

At last the first train arrived and in the spring a regular gold rush for the C.P.R. lands took place. After this the town took time to breathe and was incorporated when eight months old, and a census of 1150 was shown.

Property would not rest, it has continually become more valuable. Looking around, everything looked solid and so now the town is ready to paddle its own canoe. Every action of the city fathers has been well weighed before being countenanced. The coal mines are a valuable asset to the town and the running creek with its sandstone banks is another great item. The location of the brick yard is unique.

Castor is destined to become a rival of many of its bigger sisters owing to its unique location on the Beaver Dam, ten miles south of the Battle River and twelve miles north of Sullivan Lake. The place is the busiest town ever seen for its age. It seems as though a magician waved his wand and the town appeared from the interior of the earth. The rich lands are veritable gold mines. The town can never look back, for its future is marked and so plainly. Today, walking down the streets, one finds it a busy place, everywhere there is already something built or going to be built. Every business is doing a roaring trade. One can expect all this centre of a tremendous trade, and that it is right bang in the heart of the wheat lands of Alberta.

The population of this town is going to be well in the thousands. The city fathers expect to treat the town to the benefits of modern science, in the installation of electric light, and water from either the Beaver Dam Creek or the Battle River, this supplemented with modern drainage is certainly striking a keynote and all this is going to happen soon, not three or four years from now.

LIGHT ON AN OLD STORY

Tradition has been vindicated, at least in part, after years of actuals and counter-actuals, said Henry P. Evans, of Frederic, Md., to a friend in the lobby of the New Willard in Washington one day this week.

"If my information is correct the Barbara Fritchie story is not the fiction that some historical writers have asserted. Some new light has been shed on the old story."

"Not long ago," said Mr. Evans, "a Grand Army veteran told me he was preparing an article which would prove that Whittier's poem was not altogether a fabrication. Stories have been published, you know, to the effect that there was no foundation for the poem. It has been denied that such a woman as Barbara Fritchie ever existed. The article which I refer to will put a quietus on these statements, although, I must confess, it will not verify the most dramatic part of the poem. The author of the article obtained his information, as he told me, from a man who was a sergeant in the American flag as the South-eastern Frederick."

"According to this former Confederate's story, Barbara Fritchie did exist, though, and so far as he knew, no one shot the staff which he held. The poem, you remember, makes General Stonewall Jackson give the rebuke to the soldier who fired the shot."

"Who harms one hair of you grey head Dies like a dog."

"That's the way Whittier put it, as I remember. But the version of my Grand Army friend gave me is entirely different. The old story, he told him that as the troops were marching past a house—whose it was, of course, he didn't know at that time—an old woman came to the front door with a Union flag in her hand. She waved this 'back' and forth, and 'threw' the flag over the line. The soldiers all along the line were joking her in a good-natured way. In his own company were several young fellows, always wandering about, and he saw the fun they could get out of such a tiresome affair as a march such as the old woman was making. When they saw the flag, they raised their guns, and pointed them in her direction, just to see if they could get her to move. She did not move. These guns were not loaded, as they were not in action, and so, the sergeant's story goes, there was no shot fired. The men, however, were so angry that they were merely acted in a spirit of mischief."

"The sergeant himself, he related, ordered the boys to stop their foolishness and not point their guns at the old woman. They laughed and shuddered at the same time, but they did not move. The sergeant's story is eliminated; there was no shot fired, but nevertheless, the flag was pointed at Barbara Fritchie, and so the poem of Whittier is not altogether the product of imagination. The poet may have got his information from the despatch to a yellow newspaper, if they had them in those days."

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

LIFE IS SLOWLY EBBING

The Winnipeg Tribune has joined the corps of specialists who are sitting up with the Western Canada League and soothing its last moments. The W. C. L. is certainly a very sick individual and the Edmonton, Lethbridge and Calgary physicians in attendance hold out very little hope of its ultimate recovery. Internal complications have set in and the doctors have decided as a last resort, to amputate. But the learned M. D.'s cannot agree how far to go. Some desire to make two smaller bodies, Winnipeg, Brandon, Moose Jaw and Regina in one, and Edmonton, Lethbridge, Calgary and Saskatoon in the other. However, Doctors White, Middleton and Hatch seem to think there is no vitality in the old carcass, and purpose to perform a grafting (in the medical sense) operation with Butte, Helena and Grand Forks.

So from latest bulletins from the sick room, the casual onlooker has just about concluded, the R. T. P. stone can be prepared for Mr. Western Canada League, who is dying after a short life and a tempestuous one. Chief mourner—Will Carney.

Some one in Washington pulled this one on Kid Elberfeld the other day, and it got a laugh: "Elberfeld was born in Copenhagen, where they make snuff, which is the reason he is such a good pinch hitter." Then all of the Washington players sneezed.

COOMBS HAS NO USE FOR CURVES

His Claim Is They Are Little Needed Now—Drop Ball Is King Pin

"I notice they are printing stories about Jack Coombs and how he didn't know how to pitch until this year," remarked "Matschi" Kitzinger, Detroit scout. Kit caught for years and years and is a close observer of baseball, particularly pitching. That is why his comment on Coombs is of more than ordinary weight.

"Coombs has started to pitch great ball because he has mastered the greatest of all pitching assets, the drop ball that does not break from the right-handed batter. I don't mean one of those out-drops, but a ball that comes up to the plate squarely in the centre and falls from one to two feet without changing its lateral direction. "Amos Rusie had that ball, and he threw it with tremendous speed. Rusie pitched that drop thing and mixed it up with a fast one in close, and the batter who could meet it with any regularity never lived. They tell me that Ramsey and other old-timers depended on it extensively."

Coombs certainly did give a fine exhibition of pitching on his recent appearance in Detroit. Batters like Sam Crawford, who usually hit the ball hard, swung and missed with great frequency. Time after time Crawford hit on top of the drop, and nobody seemed able to do much with it.

The regulation drop is much easier and is rather dangerous, because a batter sometimes catches it far on the outside, and a long drive over the outfield results.

George Mullin has spent a lot of time working on a drop that does not break away, and has mastered it so well that it is one of his best puzzles. When Mullin comes up on his toes with an overhead swing and a quick jerk of the wrist as the ball leaves, it's the drop. He couples it with a lot of speed, and you know how effective he has been year in and year out.

The day of the curve ball pitcher seems to be on the decline. All the effective hurlers are depending almost completely on quick-breaking efforts, which shoot out of direct line rather than curve. The deliberate curves are effective only against certain clubs, and the batters who fall for them are so few comparatively that they do not count.

Walter Johnson, credited with being as good as anybody in the American league at least has a curve that breaks so slightly you can hardly call it a curve. He depends on a fast fall that he shoots, command and a slow ball which is thrown with the same motion as the fast shoot.

Speaking of hitting feats, Chief Meyers of the Giants claims a record which even Cobb and Lajoie have never approached. One day after a game in Cincinnati Meyers inspected the Cincinnati score and discovered that he had made three hits, although going to bat only twice. "That gives me an average of 1.500 for six days," claims the chief, "and I consider that a little more than going some."

Next! One of the home runs made by Schulte against the Giants the other day is declared by McGraw to be the longest fly he ever saw. The ball never has been found, and the supposition is that it went off the earth.

INTERESTING TIT-BITS OF OLD COUNTRY SPORT

In an interesting water polo match at Hamilton, Scotland, England beat Scotland, by three goals to 1.

A proposal is on foot to hold a great French Olympiad in Paris next May. Circulars have been sent to the leading athletic clubs of the world with a view to ascertaining their views on the matter.

It is passing strange that it should be left to gallant little Wales to produce the only lightweight boxers in the United Kingdom who are really of championship caliber. These are Owen Morris, Welsh and Driscoll, and they are in a class by themselves.

George Robey, the famous comedian, is a footballer of some ability—for his years—and every year he captains a theatrical team in a match played for some charity, but George makes more money in a week behind the footlights than he could hope to do in a year as a "hannelled fool."

Probably in no country in the world is quoting so popular as in Scotland, but the game is confined chiefly to the country districts. Recently a match took place between Adam Dougall, Cambuslang, and John Orr, Clydebank, for $200 a side. Dougall won 61-55.

Now that a Canadian cricket eleven has visited the motherland, and made good, Britishers would like to see a clash between them and a Canadian football team. No doubt a rugby fifteen could give a good account of themselves, but an association eleven could not hope for much success against the giants of that game over home.

Played at South Croydon, England, a cricket match was remarkable from the fact that in one eleven ten brothers named a Parrie played, the youngest being nineteen years of age. They gave a good account of themselves by getting 150 runs in two innings against their opponents' Parkside Cricket club, whose total was 77.

T. S. Battersby, of Wigan, won the great swim through London, from Richmond to Blackfriars—12 miles, in 3 hours 21 minutes 21-25 seconds. Out of 40 starters, 29 finished. Among the competitors were 16 ladies. Battersby was never headed, Miss Carson was the first of her sex to finish, getting fifth place among the competitors. Her time was 3 hours 51 mins. 25 seconds—a most remarkable performance.

NECKTIE WORRIED JOE; BUT THAT'S ALL

Joe Corbett, Jim's younger brother, was the coolest ball player that ever lived. They tell this story on him during the game between Baltimore and Cleveland in the Temple cup series some years ago:

Corbett was pitching for Baltimore, and in the eighth inning he scored was 3 to 6 in Baltimore's favor. Cleveland had only one man out, and with two men on bases, Jesse Burkett, who was then the National league champion hitter, came to bat. Everyone expected him to drive in at least one of the runs, and possibly two. It was a scene of the wildest excitement—everyone was insane except Corbett. He went on chewing gum as nonchalantly as ever. Burkett hit the first ball that came along for a slow little ball along the first base line. Corbett and the catcher both went after it, and it fell just over the line, and was declared a foul.

Corbett picked up the ball, and as he was turning to walk back to the box the catcher took him by the arm and began to talk to him in a reassuring manner. "It's all right, old. You've got 'em all going. Those men on the bags are afraid to move, and that big stiff at bat couldn't hit you in a month. You've got 'em winged for fair. Now keep cool. Don't get nervous and we'll get the game."

"I'm not nervous," said Joe, as he started away. "The only thing that's worrying me is whether I ought to wear a blue tie or a brown one with my new suit."—New York World.

Running the half-mile at Jarrovi, Eng., R. Burton, of Berwick Harriers, finished third in 2-5 seconds better than Scottish record, and if this can be authenticated, the S.A.A.A. champion will have lowered the half-mile record twice within a week. Prior to the Celtic sports the record was 1 min. 39-45 sec., and it is now 1 min. 38 sec.

Miss Irene Steer, of Cardiff, Wales, is the champion 100-yards lady swimmer in the world. In the final at Weston-super-Mare, she beat Miss Fitcher and Miss Jessie Spier, of England, and Miss Dinah Mackay, of Scotland. Miss Steer's time was 1 min. 13-25 sec.

The old saying about a prophet having no honor in his own country can almost be equally applied to Scottish footballers, hundreds of whom are now playing in first-class football over the border. Indeed, it would almost appear as if an English team was not complete without its quota of Scots.

Glasgow is to have the greatest boxing carnival in its history. The proceeds are for the benefit of Jim Martin, instructor to the Southern Athletic club, who is at present a patient at a local sanitarium. Jim Driscoll and a host of other leading lights in the fighting game have all offered their services gratuitously.

The Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures have been shown in Dublin. When it was announced that the pictures were to be shown, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of that city protested to the lord mayor, who in turn communicated with the police chief. The latter warned the proprietor, informing him that he was breaking the law. The owner could not see it that way, however, and it appears the pictures were shown.

A remarkable outburst of enthusiasm was displayed when the British rugby team arrived at Sydney, Australia. The game was witnessed by 50,000 spectators, the receipts totalling $10,000. On an adjacent field where an American team was playing, but 5,000 people were present. After the game 200 British bluejackets unhitched a team of horses and dragged the visiting team through the streets for over three miles.

Rechester Herald: A baseball writer of the Newark News, picking a trio of outlanders from the Eastern League as the best in the league, names Kelly of Newark and O'Hara and Shaw of Toronto. He mentions Batch, but pays no attention to Osborn. Instead, he spends some time discussing Jake Gettman of Newark and Goode of Baltimore. When it comes to outlanders in this league, Osborn can not be overlooked. He ranks with the best guardians of centre field in the league.

But Nelson, the Durable Dane, is out with a deft to Ad Wolgast. Bat offers $50,000 that he can beat the present lightweight champion.

For the first time in some years there will be no international cricket match. The match was called off owing to the inability to place a representative Canadian eleven in the field.

Umpire Thomas Hanley, who has been umpiring in the Blue Grass League, has quit the job and gone to work in a mill. After the uproar and excitement of the Blue Grass a mill must seem like a quiet haven.

A wild pitch at Chicago the other day beamed a spectator roosting in a field box. When they came to enquire into the accident they found that the victim had no right to be there, his coupon calling for a seat in the stand. New way to impress on a man that he is in the wrong location.

Johnny Evers of the Chicago Cubs bought an automobile. "Do you have any trouble with your machine?" asked Kling, a couple of weeks later. "Trouble," roared Evers; "say, I couldn't have more if I was married to the blame thing."

Did you ever hear the story of Dave Altizer being touched for a large roll on the train by one of the fair sex? The next day he soaked one in right field with Tim Harst umpiring, and after sliding into the home plate yelled when Tim called him out: "Never touched me, Tim; never touched me." Tim replied: "No, I guess that didn't touch you on the 'rain, either."

The Philadelphia Times claims for Jimmy Dygert of the Athletics the champion warm-up pitcher of either of the major leagues this season, a claim that Dygert does not see fit to dispute. "So help me," he said the other day, "I've pitched 128 games down there in the left field corner, and I haven't heard the umpire give a decision except in about sixteen all the year. But outside of pitching 900 innings I haven't had any work to do at all."

Ex-Pitcher Bill Dineen is umpiring better than several arbitrators who have been in the business for years. No matter how great a pitcher may be, there is always some team that he is never successful against. The New York team, for instance, seems to be Walter Johnson's Jonah.

"Ginger" Beumant, the Chicago National's pinch hitter, is certainly the season's Colonel Pinch. He has won many a game for Chicago's team when he has been sent in to break it up or clutch it for the Cubs.

Harvard plans to engage Fred Tenney as professional baseball coach next year. The position, it is said, will be worth as much as $3,000 a year to the former Giant star. Besides, Tenney in his spare moments would be provided with remuneration.

COUNT SUBDUED 200 AT REVOLVER POINT

One Way of Putting Down a Riot at a County Council Meeting in Austria

Vienna—Count Erosdy has subdued a riot at a "comitatus" (county council) meeting, of which he was chairman, at Maros-Vaszhely (Transylvania), with truly Cromwellian energy. In the midst of a scene of fierce wrangling, Count Erosdy wrestled a document from the grasp of the clerk. This was a signal for the outbreak of hostilities by the opposition. Inkpots and notebooks flew through the air, and one missile struck the chairman. Count Erosdy at once whipped out a revolver and covered his opponent's head. It was loaded, they immediately abandoned the conflict. The count automatically declared the meeting adjourned, and the two hundred members, their eyes still on the revolver, mildly edged their way out of the council chamber.

HIS NASAL OBLIGATO.

"Mr. Skimmerhorn," inquired the landlady, "how did you sleep last night?" "Like a top," answered the guest. "I thought so. I could hear you—aw-humming all night long."—Chicago Tribune.

EX-SLAVES NOW SLAVE HOLDERS

Former American Slaves Buy and Sell Africans in Protected Liberian Republic

Berlin—A German traveler, just returned from the Republic of Liberia, was invited by the Kaiser to send him on one of his recent journeys by rail and report on the conditions he found there. Of course the Kaiser is particularly interested because the United States have assumed, or will assume, the protectorate over the negro republic.

Dr. Hans Fischer, the explorer, reported to his majesty what follows: "There is hardly a white man in Liberia, the people of the Republic being either descendants of former American slaves or black natives. The government is entirely the hands of American negroes, who consider themselves far above the natives. These descendants of America ex-slaves do no work, leaving the drudgery to the natives."

"Among the latter, the very tribe is the most intelligent. Among other things the 'evys' invented an alphabet of their own. The Basa tribe furnishes the factory workers, and the Grou tribe the longshoremen. The Liberian hinterland remains as undeveloped as in 1822, when the American slaves took hold of the country. Rice, corn, manioc, and batates are the natural products."

"The most remarkable is that these ex-slaves maintain slavery on this day, but in a very mild form. The slaves are well treated and very few of them are ever sold. Slaves are acquired during the continuous wars between the savage natives. The prisoners are invariably sold. All the villages and little towns are built on hills on account of the 25-year inundation. Both Christian and Moslem missionaries are busy in Liberia, but the natives do not take kindly to them and have found societies to oppose them. There are societies both for black men and black women to oppose the progress of foreign religions. That notwithstanding the missionary schools are well patronized, since the most progressive natives are eager to learn European languages and to read and write in order to have a better chance in trade."
